go by car

Visitors coming from the north may take the expressway A9 (Phyrnautobahn). Shortly before Graz you will drive through two tunnels. Be prepared for the exit "Graz-Andritz" directly after the second tunnel. Afterwards head for the right side to Graz.

Visitors coming from the south, west or east will have to approach "Autobahnknoten Graz-West" (in the south-west of Graz city) and may change to "Salzburg/Linz" through the "Plabutschunnel" (tunnel with total length of 10km) to bypass Graz city. Again, shortly before the next tunnel you will have to take the exit "Graz-Andritz" and head for Graz city.

By now the traffic from all directions would be reconciled.

Drive along "Wiener Strasse" for about 3.2km until you reach a large junction. Right here you will have to turn to the left.

You are now driving along St. Veiter Straße until you reach the junction between Stattegger Straße and [?]Weinitzenstraße[?].

Once turned into [?]Stattegger Straße[?] you will see the "Rotmoosweg" after approxiamtely 50 meters on the left side. Keep on driving along the Rotmoosweg until you can see a SPAR supermarket on the right side.

coming from the city

For those comming from Vienna - you may try to make your way through Graz city instead of taking the Plabutschunnel. The use of a street plan is advised. Your time-saving may be between 5 to 15 minutes, which depends on the traffic. The distance you will save will be about 12km.

From the motorway-exit "Graz-Ost" you will have to turn to the right into "Münzgrabenstrasse" and follow the street straight ahead. The street will enlarge to a two-lane road and you will have to pass the opera. Drive along the "Glacis" to "Wirtschaftskammer" and further ahead the "Grabenstrasse". You will reach the large junction between "Grabenstrasse" and "Andritzer Reichsstrasse", where you can see a JET-gas station on the left side. Turn right into the "Andritzer Reichsstrasse". Follow this street, which turns into "Radegunder Strasse" soon, but keep driving straight on.

After approximately 2km you will see the SPAR supermarket on the left side. This is the junction with Rotmoosweg.

Although Rotmoosweg Nr.52 would be on the right side, please turn left and look for a parking lot here. Afterwards go uphill the Rotmoosweg and you will find our office at the right side.
